

Andy Taylor Taylor & Taylor Law Firm, P.A.

Little Rock attorney Andy Taylor is committed to the client experience. His firm, Taylor & Taylor Law Firm, P.A., offers visitors first-class amenities, including freshly brewed cappuccinos and lattes, imported soft drinks and valet parking. But don't let appearances fool you — Andy is a small-town guy at heart. Having grown up the son of a preacher in Gurdon and Warren, Andy offers his clients hometown sensibilities coupled with city know-how. Andy is keenly aware that contacting a lawyer is often a stressful experience, particularly for his personal injury clients. Andy values his clients' time, and he strives to make meetings at Taylor & Taylor enjoyable but productive. Andy and wife/law partner Tasha take pride in cultivating a friendly, welcoming atmosphere at the firm, and they love connecting with clients both in and out of the office. Taylor & Taylor can be found on Facebook, Pinterest, Instagram and Twitter.

When not in the office meeting with clients, Andy is an active member of the Arkansas Bar Association; he and Tasha regularly give presentations to other attorneys about the appellate process, another major practice area for Taylor & Taylor. A former assistant dean for academic support at the UALR William H. Bowen School of Law in Little Rock, Andy has stayed involved with the law school since entering private practice in 2009. He serves on the Dean's Advisory Council and is vice President of the Bowen Alumni Board.

Outside of the legal community, Andy enjoys staying fit and exploring his neighborhood with Tasha and their young daughter. They can often be found enjoying the walking trails by the river or sampling the local fare at area restaurants.
